

Manage Open Source Risk

Software Composition Analysis from Revenera

Deliver secure and high quality products to your customers.

Protect your IP and avoid legal risks from open source licenses.

Automated, End-to-End Third-Party Code Management

Today, organizations report that over 65 percent of their software solutions are built using open source (OS) code—to speed time to market and drive innovation. Ignoring essential management of open source can lead to security and IP risks.

How to Minimize Risk

You need to create a safe open source environment. FlexNet Code Insight from Revenera is a code scanning solution that enables you to manage your open source compliance and security while delivering safe products to your customers.

Never Miss Evidence of Open Source

Start with high-level package analysis, and drill down into detailed analysis—all the way to code snippets.

Reduce Remediation Costs

Scan early and often to find vulnerabilities and remediate in less time and with less cost.

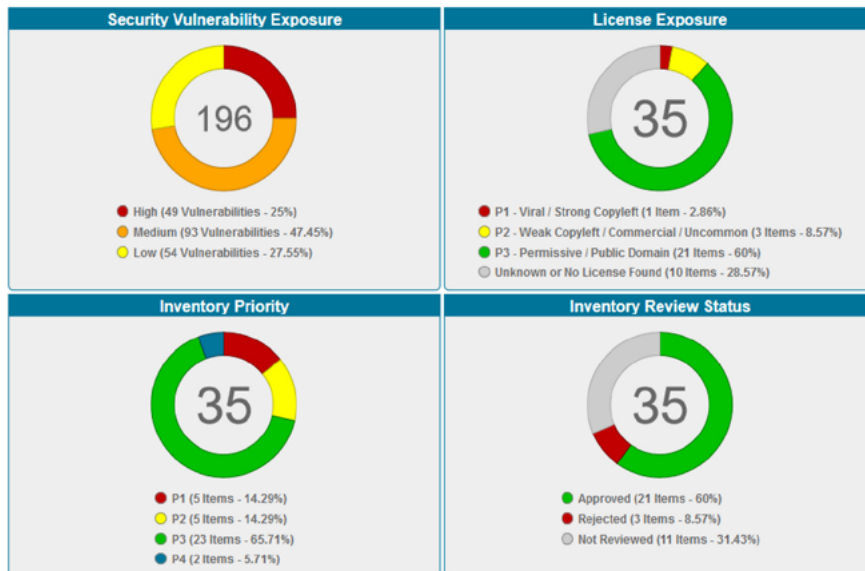

Monitor Continuously and Proactively

Never miss evidence of open source and receive timely alerts for new vulnerabilities.

Automate Code Analysis

Integrate OS security into your build process and easily create a Software Bill of Materials (SBOM).
